VALIC LAUNCHES MOBILE APPLICATION FOR APPLE iPad

The App Features Account Information, Retirement Planning Tools and Transactional Capabilities

HOUSTON, October 31, 2013 —VALIC, a leading retirement plan provider for healthcare institutions, as well as for K-12 schools and school districts and higher education, government and other not-for-profit organizations, launched its new mobile application for the Apple iPad. Like the mobile application for iPhone and Android phones, the iPad app includes account information, a retirement income calculator, the ability to view outside assets and contact their VALIC advisor. Additionally, the iPad app will have transactional capabilities, allowing plan participants to achieve their retirement goals on the go.

“VALIC is excited to announce the launch of its new iPad application,” said Craig Cheyne, Senior Vice President of Marketing Strategy at VALIC. “This new application is yet another facet of our growing spectrum of services. From our on-site financial advisors to on-the-go account access through our robust suite of mobile and online tools, VALIC strives to continually develop customized retirement planning solutions in order better serve our customers.”

The iPad application gives customers a summary of their portfolio, plan, and outside assets and allows them to check their transaction history, personal performance, and industry news. It also enables them to initiate future allocation changes, rebalance assets and adjust their contribution level. Alternatively, the application includes contact information for VALIC and its financial advisors to facilitate any requests. The tablet application includes an interactive retirement income calculator, allowing users to see the impact of modifications to their assets. Users can also access educational videos, market quotes, VALIC and industry news, and the VALIC Twitter feed displayed in real time.

The free application is available for download through Apple’s App Store™, along with the existing VALIC iPhone application. The new application is compatible with iPad products running iOS 6.0 or higher. The existing VALIC Mobility website service will continue to operate for individuals whose mobile devices are not compatible with the application.
